INTRODUCTION

Welcome to the WorldSkills Ireland 2024 Teacher and Guidance Counsellor Information Pack.

We're excited to welcome you and your students to WorldSkills Ireland 2024! While WorldSkills Ireland competitions have been running since the 1960s, in 2017, a decision was made to highlight Skills, Apprenticeships, and Further and Higher Education opportunities in Ireland. This led to the creation of the WorldSkills Ireland event at the RDS. Now in its fourth year, the event is set to be the largest yet, with over 30,000 students, teachers, guidance counsellors, and parents already registered to attend.

The opening times for the event are:

Wednesday, 25th September	9am – 12 noon & 12.30pm – 3.30pm
Thursday, 26th September	9am – 12 noon & 12.30pm – 3.30pm
Friday, 27th September	10.30am – 1.30pm

WorldSkills Ireland 2024 will take place at the RDS Simmonscourt Complex. We are running this event alongside our neighbours, Higher Options 2024, which will be held in the RDS Main Hall Complex.

This information pack is designed to make your and your students' experience as smooth and rewarding as possible. Inside this information pack, you'll find everything you need to plan your visit to WorldSkills Ireland 2024.

Please note, we have a waiting list of schools hoping to attend fully booked time slots, so we encourage you to find the registration confirmation email we recently sent and confirm the day and time slot you selected for your visit to WorldSkills Ireland 2024. It's important that all allocated slots are used. If your school is unable to attend, please inform us as soon as possible so we can offer your slot to another school on the waiting list. To adjust your group size or cancel your registration, please email info@worldskillsireland.ie.

For a full list of FAQ's click here or simple email us on info@worldskillsireland.ie

We look forward to welcoming you and hope WorldSkills Ireland 2024 will inspire and guide your students as they explore their future opportunities.

The WorldSkills Ireland Team

MINISTER'S WELCOME

Welcome to WorldSkills Ireland 2024, an event which has Imagination and Innovation as its cornerstone. WorldSkills celebrates the best in Irish talent, shining a light on the exciting possibilities that lie ahead for all learners.

WorldSkills Ireland presents a valuable opportunity for skilled young people countrywide to meet and showcase their abilities. Sharing their experiences and skills provides real encouragement and support to those learners visiting WorldSkills who may be thinking of joining an apprenticeship programme.

As Minister for Further and Higher Education I have prioritised growing the education options for skills-based careers. Apprenticeships are now on the CAO website and there is a dedicated apprenticeship helpline where you can get advice.

Over the next few days, I invite learners, teachers, parents and guidance counsellors to enjoy the competition and visit as many areas of the exhibition as possible. There are so many possibilities and some career paths you may not even have thought of for your future pathway to work.

There are more than 160 finalists competing in over 30 challenges displaying their expertise and craft.

You will also have an opportunity to try out careers with the interactive "Try A Skill" tasks. It's a great way to discover what is for you by giving it a go.

This includes demonstrations of latest exciting technology in AI and Virtual Reality along with the latest advances in sustainable and green technologies.

Ireland is a young, vibrant country and the skills we are fostering will encourage innovation, grow our economy and make Ireland more competitive on the world stage. Collectively, we can make a positive impact and use our skills to build a better tomorrow.

I hope you all enjoy and discover all the opportunities available at this year's WorldSkills at RDS Simonscourt, Dublin.

PATRICK O'DONOVAN
Minister for Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science.

Your 6-Step Checklist for Success!

1) Review your Registration:

Please locate the registration confirmation email to note which day and timeslot you selected your group to attend. As 3 out of 5 time slots are now fully booked, it's essential that every allocated slot is used. If your school is unable to attend, please let us know as soon as possible. 2) Plan ahead:

Spend some time with your students going through our pre-event activities and checklists. We also have a 5 minute highlight video available to view as a group before your visit to WorldSkills Ireland 2024 which explains what to expect when you arrive. We highly recommend watching this, especially if your students haven't attended before. Plan which panel discussion your students want to hear from on the Heroes Stage and review the list of companies / education providers they would like to speak to at the Careers' Zone, Educators' Zone and #ThisIsFETZone – check out the floorplan here, which can help get the lay of the land before you arrive.

3) Check out the National Competition Finals:

Over 170 of the top apprentices in Ireland are competing in over 30 competitions at the RDS. Do you know anyone competing in the National Finals? Make sure you stop by the competition area so you can cheer them on and see for yourself what an apprenticeship within that skill could entail. The winners of each competition will go on to represent Ireland in the Skills Olympics in 2026.

4) Try a Skill:

Speak to further education experts at the #ThisIsFET zone and celebrate the diversity of opportunity and value that skills-based jobs can bring. While you are there, try out a new skill - there will be a lot on show including make up artistry and prosthetics, animation and video production, cake decorating, advanced manufacturing and virtual welding, to name but a few.

“In today’s world, the notion that a university degree is the only route to success is being challenged. Many careers that once seemed exclusive to university graduates can now be accessed through tertiary courses, from nursing to advanced manufacturing, the options are vast, and the opportunities are growing.”

“At WorldSkills Ireland, we are committed to celebrating the diverse range of skills careers and apprenticeships available in Ireland, from National competitions to offering insights into the numerous pathways young people can pursue, the three-day show is an opportunity to explore, learn, and see firsthand the dynamic, future-proof careers that are available right now.”

Ray adds: “We hope to inspire the next generation to consider apprenticeships and skill-based careers as not just a choice, but as a brilliant, forward-looking career path that can lead to success and satisfaction in the years to come.”

RAY ENGLISH
Chair of WorldSkills Ireland

“A skills-based career or apprenticeship is not just an alternative; it’s a rewarding path that can lead to a fulfilling and very successful future. As the landscape of education and employment evolves, apprenticeships are no longer seen as a secondary option but as a dynamic choice that provides real-world experience and job readiness.”

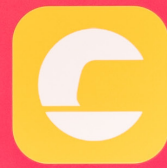

“However, we acknowledge that there is still work to do in changing attitudes towards skills-based careers. It’s vital to understand that these paths are not only viable but essential to the Irish economy. Skilled trades are the backbone of our infrastructure, innovation, and growth. Choosing this route is not just about securing a job; it’s about building a career that is both valuable and future-proof.”

“Whether you’re unsure of your next steps, didn’t get the grades you hoped for, or are simply drawn to a more hands-on, practical approach to learning, I encourage you to explore the wealth of opportunities available through apprenticeships and skills training. The future is bright, and there’s a place for everyone to thrive.”

More and more people are choosing Generation Apprenticeship to build their careers – here's why'

A transformed apprenticeship system in this country has opened up careers and skills development options for school leavers and career seekers of all ages and backgrounds. Now with over 70 diverse programmes under the 'Generation Apprenticeship' banner, there is a career option for everyone.

Ireland is proud to have apprenticeship options front and centre in its education and training system. Craft apprenticeships for the construction, electrical, engineering and motor industries continue to be hugely important and vibrant options. Alongside these, there are now more than 50 apprenticeships introduced over the past 5 years, from cybersecurity and software development, to international financial services, wind turbine maintenance, horticulture and farming and so many more. New programmes are continuously being launched and the range of choice continues to grow.

Not only do apprenticeships offer a pathway into a career where skills are in high demand, but they offer the opportunity to 'earn and learn'. Apprentices earn a salary while in training. And they access practical work opportunities with an employer alongside learning off-the-job.
